Goddard second football team lined up against the first on the campus yesterday afternoon and held them to a single touchdown, and what is more would have gained a touchdown themselves, but for a fumble on the 5-yard line. The first team's regular full back, Horsford played on the second team and Jimmo was full for the first. Horsford struck the line so hard when he rushed the ball that he would go through the whole first team before they realized that the play had started. Goddard's line, although heavy, is extremely slow, the lighter men of the second team at times being over the first team's line and preventing the quarterback from passing the ball. For the first team Berry and Vivian did well, the latter trying out at quarter. Horsford for the second team did most of the playing.
